6th IB & Finance Paper Development Workshop
“Advancing Interdisciplinary Perspectives in IB & Finance Research”

WU Vienna, August 30th 2019
Deadline for extended abstracts or full papers: July 1st 2019

For the sixth consecutive year, we invite researchers to join their efforts and creativity in developing papers at the intersection of International Business and Finance. The workshop is designed to connect junior scholars to like-minded peers, and to offer hands-on guidance from senior faculty from the fields. The workshop is organized and financially supported by the Department of Global Business and Trade at WU Vienna. The senior faculty will include Prof. Söhnke Bartram (Warwick Business School), Prof. Igor Filatotchev (King’s College London), Prof. Jakob Müllner (WU Vienna), Prof. Otto Randl (WU Vienna), and Prof. Christian Wagner (WU Vienna). Further senior faculty may be announced.

Aim and Background of the Workshop:
IB researchers increasingly call for further integration of Finance and IB (Agmon, 2006, Cumming, Filatotchev, Knill, Reeb, & Senbet, 2017, Puck & Filatotchev, 2018). The goal of the 6th IB & Finance Paper Development Workshop is to create an interactive forum for both IB/Finance researchers. We also encourage contributions from Strategy, Accounting and Management with international and/or Finance perspectives. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Current topics in managing and financing international business activities (e.g., Brexit, global protectionism, economic disintegration)
- Governance and international finance (e.g., risk behaviour, agency cost)
- Institutional context and international finance (e.g., liability of foreignness in capital markets, local financial context, legitimacy, isomorphism)
- International capital structure and internal capital markets (e.g., diversification, international transfer pricing, arbitrage, taxation)
- Ownership effects on internationalization (e.g., family ownership, institutional investors, sovereign wealth funds)
- Financial risk management in internationalization (e.g., hedging, trade finance, risk reporting)
- International strategic finance (e.g., listing location, location specific financial advantages, project finance, syndication)
- Firm level issues in financing internationalization (e.g., SMEs, MNEs, EMNEs, born globals, export finance and FDI finance, joint ventures)
- Integrating IB and Finance theories (e.g., TCE, RBV, OLI, real options, agency and institutional theory).
Contacts and Further Information:

Thomas Lindner
Institute for International Business, Department of Global Business and Trade
Welthandelsplatz 1 / D1. 5. OG, 1020 Wien
Tel.: +43-1-313 36-4368
E- Mail: thomas.lindner@wu.ac.at

Faculty Members in 2019:

- Prof. Söhnke Bartram (Warwick Business School)
- Prof. Igor Filatotchev (King’s College London)
- Prof. Jakob Müllner (WU Vienna)
- Prof. Otto Randl (WU Vienna)
- Prof. Christian Wagner (WU Vienna)

Candidate Submission Procedure and Deadlines:

- July 1st: Submission of full papers OR extended abstract to thomas.lindner@wu.ac.at

  Abstracts should include:
  - research question addressed,
  - theory and literature review,
  - research design, data and methodology,
  - expected results and contribution to scholarship in IB & Finance.

- July 15th: Notification of acceptance (Preference to young scholars)

  The selection criteria include:
  - interdisciplinary relevance to the fields IB & Finance,
  - theoretical and methodological novelty and rigor,
  - clarity of presentation.

- July 25th: Confirmation of attendance by candidates (required!)

- August 15th: Submission of full working papers if an extended abstract was submitted.

  Working papers should include empirical analyses and should be approaching submission stage to provide sufficient room for discussion and further development.

Workshop programme:

- August 29th: welcome reception, held at WU Vienna
- Participants and senior faculty meet at WU Vienna
- Dinner and evening programme in Vienna

- August 30th: workshop day, held at WU Vienna

  Participants receive an in-depth review by an assigned member of the senior faculty.

  Each paper is presented to and discussed by all participants (approx. 60 minutes per paper).

  The workshop is open to interested scholars without papers to present.

  There is no fee for the workshop. Catering, lunch and reception are provided by the Department of Global Business and Trade, WU Vienna
References

